CRA AGENDA:

TO: Agency Board Members
VIA: Dennis R. Halloway, Executive Director
FROM: Deborah Woldruff, AICP, Community Development Director
SUBJECT: Completion of the Path of History Brochures

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended that the Agency Board receive and accept the Report on the completion of the Path of History Brochures.

BACKGROUND

On November 13, 2001, the Agency Board approved a request from the Path of History Subcommittee (of the Historical Commission) for funding in the amount of $5,521 for the preparation and printing of a walking tour and driving tour of the City.

ANALYSIS

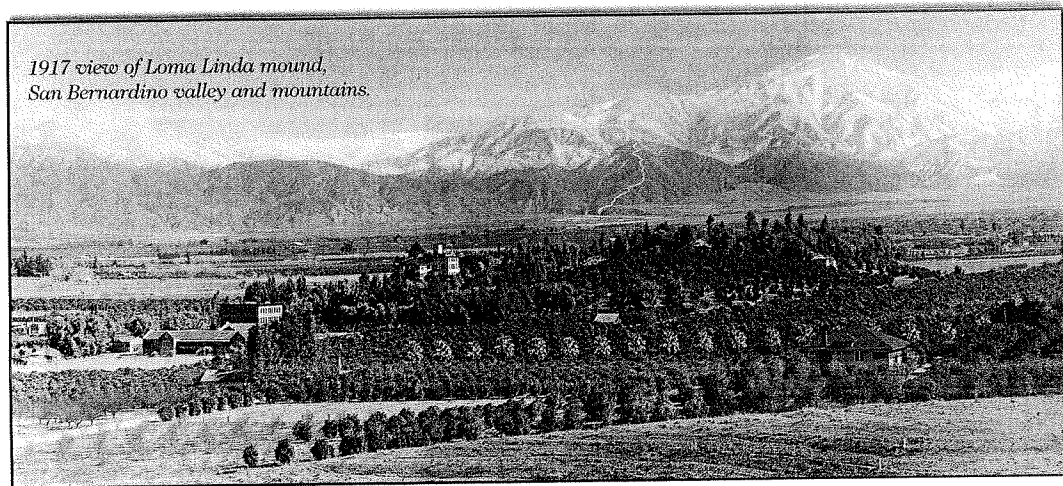

Two brochures have been prepared using the funding that was granted by the Agency Board in 2001. Loma Linda University staff prepared the first brochure, a self-guided walking tour of the Loma Linda University Historical Sites, in 2002. The second brochure is a self-guided driving tour that was prepared by graphic artist, David Oden for the City earlier this year. Examples of the brochures are attached to this report (Attachment A).

The two brochures highlight some of the City's important historical resources and areas and help to promote Loma Linda as a community that takes pride in its history. Copies of the brochures are available from the Loma Linda Chamber of Commerce, Loma Linda University Heritage Room, and Loma Linda City Hall.

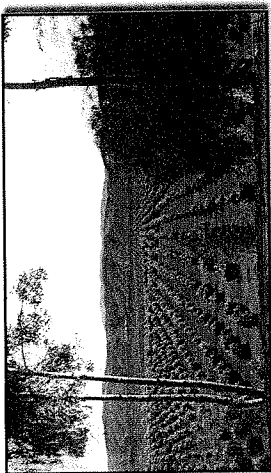

FINANCIAL IMPACT

The financial impact of the Path of History brochures is the expenditure of the initial funding ($5,521) and any future printings of these brochures. The Path of History Subcommittee and Historical Commission have recommended the preparation of other similar brochures at some point in the future. The potential financial impacts resulting from the preparation of future brochures is not known.

Loma Linda Civic Center

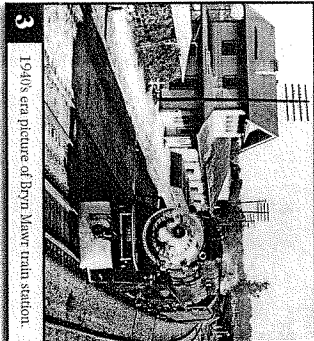

Loma Linda is a city whose extensive medical and educational programs are known throughout the world. Its fascinating heritage began with the Native American era. In the early nineteenth century, Spanish built a road from Sonora, Mexico to Monte California, resulting in the establishment of Spanish missions and large ranches. In 1847, Mormons began to settle in the Inland Empire, bringing farming and the establishment of the citrus industry. The reason for the Loma Linda area was the beginning of an agricultural community of Bryn Mawr. The pleasant and healthful environment of the valley also led to the establishment of a health resort on the mound. In 1905, the Seventh-day Adventist Church purchased the health resort and subsequently developed an extensive medical and educational center. This history provides the background for Loma Linda to the present.

The purpose of this driving tour is to highlight some of the significant Loma Linda historical sites and to acquaint visitors with the city today. A separate booklet with detailed annotations and additional driving tour sites is available upon request. Also available in conjunction with this tour is a companion walking tour brochure for Loma Linda University historical sites. Further information on the city's historical sites is available at the Loma Linda Civic Center, the Chamber of Commerce, or the Loma Linda University Heritage Room. For further information, call: Chamber of Commerce at (909) 799-2828 or Heritage Room at (909) 558-4942.

Self-Guided Walking Tour

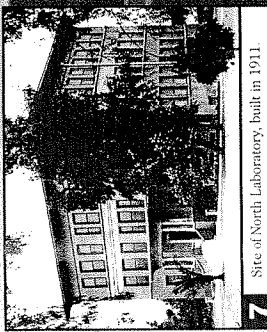

John Burden

The beginning of Loma Linda University and its ownership by the Seventh-day Adventist Church date to May, 1905, and initial 76 acres purchased by John Burden under the guidance of Ellen G. White. Previous owners had developed the hill area, which was dominated by the five-story, sixty-four-room tourist hotel. Beautiful landscaped with paths and sitting areas, the hill also had cottages and other recreational buildings. From the beginning, the Seventh-day Adventist Church had planned for this to be a unique facility for the education and training of medical missionaries. Consequently, in 1906, the College of Evangelists was formed to train gospel workers and health-care professionals. The hotel was converted to a health facility and classes were held at various locations. In 1919 the name was changed to the College of Medical Evangelists. This title reflected the beginning of medical school and physician training. In the intervening years, various schools have been formed, many thousands of physicians, dentists, nurses, and other health-care professionals have been trained and served. The University and the various clinical research facilities exist to continue the healing ministry of Jesus Christ as expressed in its motto, "make man whole."

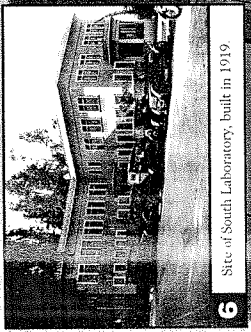

The self-guided walking tour begins at the G. S. Sanitarium monument at the center of the campus and includes seventeen sites as described on the map. It is recommended that time be taken to visit the Heritage Room in the University Library at the beginning of the tour to gain additional information on the history of the University. Hours are 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. on Friday. Phone: (909) 558-4942.
